Help Belgian Children

The letter given below was received by Mrs. Hermiston, of Listowel, formerly of Brussels, and speaks for itself. Somewhere in Belgium.

Dear Mother:—I am here in the land of such devastation and destruction as you could never imagine if you tried forever—Oh, it is awful, houses, villages, and towns all torn up—piles of earth and such holes, you could bury 10 teams of horses—homes ruined, everything as though some terrible cyclone had struck the places and ruined them forever.

I am still driving a car for a prince—next to the Crown Prince of Belgium and mother I want to interest you in this I am about to tell you.

His brother, Prince Reginald Du Croy and his sister were taken prisoners by the Germans, the brother escaped but his sister, the princess was with Edith Cavell, when she was taken prisoner. They tried to get Miss Cavell off but could do nothing. The princess was arrested with her but was condemned to be shot with her but her Royal birth saved her (her mother is King Albert of Belgium's sister but she was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in Germany, hard labor. They don't know where she is and both her brothers wish she had been shot. It would have been easier. The brother who escaped has a hospital here and yesterday I was there when 300 little children came—pale, sick, wounded, hurt little kiddies from less than 1 year to 12 years old.

Half of them did not know their own names. You see mother they go into a town like Listowel for instance and take the big boys and girls, women and men to Germany to make munition's leaving the very old and wee little ones to starve. Awful, isn't it? and such dear little children. You would break your heart mother, if you saw them, even I burst out crying—poor little things. Isn't it awful to think the little ones should suffer.

Mother, they cut holes in bags and put their little legs through and tie them around their necks. Dozens were in bed covered up, trying to keep themselves from starving—no clothes to put on.

I have given all I can but money goes such a little ways here, eggs 25c, each, meat $3.20 a lb., butter $2.25 a lb., rice 25c, a lb., a rabbit $4.50.

I have seen old men and women as old as my grandmother stand in line for hours to get a little bit of potato or meal just to keep them from starving.

The people were good industrious people not very poor, good workers, many in fair circumstances before the war and now they do not even know where their children are. Anything will be gladly received for the children. You could send the clothing to Hospital Elizabeth Prince Reginald Du Croy, Paperinghe, Belgium. Give me clothing for these little children no matter what you go without—their suffering is beyond description—anything, stockings, underwear, dresses, anything that a child could wear.

I have been from one end of France to the other and from one end of Belgium to the other belonging to the Allies and I have seen things I will never forget.

Good-bye Mother, and work hard for these dear little babies.

Pte. Hermiston.

Will all those who have any cast off clothing which could be made over for these Belgian children, please leave them at any of the stores.

The Outlook

While we refrain from singing our own doxology, we cannot but comment on conditions as they present themselves to view. Having this week motored over the country between Lethbridge and Calgary and viewed conditions as they stand, we can truly state that Lomond district crops can bear inspection with the best and are considerably in advance of a good many districts. Some fields of wheat around Lomond are fully fifteen to twenty inches in height and the germination appears perfect. About three more good rains will insure a bountiful and early harvest.

W. H. Hunter and family motored to Parkland, Alta., Saturday for a visit with home folks. They returned Monday accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunter who will visit here for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Whitting and sister also Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitting were Lethbridge visitors on Monday returning in the evening.

The Aid met with Mrs. Baughman in town, on Wednesday afternoon, altho they were late coming quite an amount of work was assigned to each to do between meetings. Mrs. Hunter Sr. had charge of the devotional exercises. After the business meeting ice cream and cake was served by Mrs. Julia Ricketts and Mrs. Baughman.

A goodly number are expecting to follow the ball team to Taber today and take defeat in a pleasant way.

What might have been a much more serious accident happened to a gentleman on Monday. He was coming into town from the north and coming down a slight incline west of Mr. Murphy's homestead he was admiring the field of wheat, and looking back at the road again noticed his car was heading out at one side, he gave the wheel a quick turn and hitting a ruff object the same time, threw the car over on its side bending the fender, and breaking the shield, some of the glass cutting him on the face in two different places which he had plastered up when he got to town.

.. TRAVERS ..

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace motored to their farm in Saskatchewan last Thursday. Mr. Wallace returning Sunday and Mrs. stopping off at Medicine Hat for a few days to visit friends.

Travers and Yetwood had their first game on Sunday and ended with a dispute as to the score, one score keeper had it 4-4 and the other had it 4-5 in favor of Yetwood. At this the game closed and Ried Hill played Yetwood, Travers rooting for Ried Hill who came out victorious.

Mrs. Joe Brenner west of town has a young badger which has become very tame and makes a unique little pet.

Mr. Tod Hunter has been seen wending his way northward the roads seem the best that way for motoring.

Mr. Donnelly, auditor for the Home Grain Co., was here this week checking up. From ere he visited Lomond and Retlaw.

Mrs. Guy Paulson has gone to Saskatchewan for a month's stay with an aunt.

A store room or commesary is being built here for the Southern Alberta Irrigation Co. as they expect to renew their efforts at the ditch.

Enchant team came up Tuesday evening for a little practice game the score was 7-7 some thought, score card showed 6-7 in favor of Travers.

Messers Gray and Gray have opened another real estate list with Mr. Ulrich one ought to be able to buy or sell quickly now as this makes three firms in town.

Miss Lindsay, of Granum, has been visiting Mrs. G. McCann this week and also her brother at Lomond.

Mr. Purcell from Bassano, and owner of the Purcell store here, gave the firm a business call for a couple of days.

Herman Ulrich's father and brother of Champion, came over Wednesday evening for a short visit.

The lumber is on the ground for the new garage which is to be built between Naismith's blacksmith shop and Mr. Hastings office.

A Mr. Buckley, lately of Winnipeg, is here and will be tried out as pitcher for the home team, he expects to do his best at Taber today as Travers is playing a return game.

Mr. Wm. Turley of Retlaw was in Travers on Wednesday on business, staying over night at O. H. Baughmans.

Mr. F. A. Way, proprietor of the Home Restaurant is again able to be up and about after being in bed for a week or ten days.

Germany's Influence

When all is said and done, the greatest injury which we have sustained from Germany is the one which is not mentioned in the list of grievances. Our commerce has been attacked; American lives have been sacrificed to the German government's disregard of international law—these are the grievances everywhere specified. But greater than these and more vitally affecting the nation is the fact that by reason of the German government's action we have changed from the greatest peace nation of the world to a nation that must put itself on a purely militaristic basis and organize a conscriptive system which may never be dispensed with.

If the militarists are right, then we ought to thank Germany for so transforming our life. That is to say, if during all these years we have been playing the part of the fool by eschewing militarism and refusing to support large standing armies, then we ought to thank Germany for shocking us out of our folly and forcing us to do the thing we ought long ago to have done.

But if our old ideals were right, if we were justified in offering the world the spectacle of an unarmed nation maintaining peace by the justice of its actions, then we can only blame Germany for bringing us down to her own level.

Assist Our Basic Industry

An interesting registration scheme has been conducted by President Reynolds of the Manitoba Agricultural College at Winnipeg, to ascertain what agricultural students do when they leave college. The results that he has obtained from those at present enrolled in that institution show that 38 girl students out of 83 will go to their own farm homes for the summer, 7 will take outside farm work, 5 will go as housekeepers, 5 as schoolteachers, one nursing, one office work and one dress-making, 25 not having reported. Of the male students 52 out of 122 will go to their parent's farms and work, 32 will go to their own farms, 2 to creamery work, 6 are willing to work on farms, but are not yet placed, and 30 are not yet heard from.

NOTICE

As children playing with had waggons on the sidewalks have become a public nuisance, we would ask the parents of these children to see that it is discontinued. If this notice fails to have the desired effect it will be necessary for us to take steps to prevent it.

TOWN COUNCIL.

British Coolness

An Englishman writes: Splendid work, even in the capture of prisoners, was done by the signallers, many of whom went forward in the first wave. One of them found himself all alone and wounded at the mouth of a crowded German dugout. By way of occupation he told the men they were his prisoners, and then, using the telephone strapped round his body, called for assistance and guides for the prisoners.

The whole battle this soldier's battle was marked by unnumbered episodes of individual personal acts of dash and coolness. Some men were too cool. They stopped to light German cigars, to taste the excellent food or don the enemy's helmets—which they wore hilariously for the rest of the day. One man who discovered an ordnance store, deliberately changed his damp and muddy shirt for a clean German garment from the packets.

I have never heard higher praise of our artillery, and the signs of its excellence are written on the soil. Everywhere in the near neighborhood of a trench the ground is like a Gruyere cheese. Beaumont-Hamel itself was pounded to the highest pitch of powerful precision. Some of the nests, apart from their human occupants, were worth robbing. One food dump contained excellent butter, white bread, tinned hams, soda water, and other luxuries. Cigars were "frequent and free," and the ordnance stores seem to have been of good quality. One brigade took 54 machine guns and 1 heavy mortar.

The modern farm requires expensive buildings. In a few years these rapidly deteriorate unless protected by good paint.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

PAINTS AND VARNISHES FOR FARM USE

No farm owner can afford to leave his farm buildings unpainted. When new they appear to stand the weather alright, but surely and gradually the lumber begins to crack and check, decay starts, and before you realize it you have a leaky, draughty barn, and expensive repairs are necessary.

The regular use of paint means a small outlay occasionally, but it keeps your buildings as good as new.

S-W Barn Red is a special paint for painting farm buildings. It is economical in price and it gives good service. It is one of the full line of Sherwin-Williams Paints and Varnishes which we carry in stock.

Badger Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Patcher and son, of Lethbridge, spent a couple of days a week ago with Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Trew.

Mrs. Grant Haynes has been seriously ill and under the doctors care.

Misses Chambers, McAllister and Folsie are candidates at school examinations at Lomond.

Mrs. Trew and Flora, Miss Davis, Mrs. B. King and R. L. King, motored to Lethbridge on Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Trew.

John Burton has declared his intention of erecting a new house and barn.

Wm. Hill has completed the erection of a fine new barn and has it nicely painted from tip to toe.

Joe Chambers is the first big game shooter of this neighborhood, having shot a lynx on Sunday. At first glance Joe figured that discretion was the better part of valor and disappeared in the opposite direction. Second thoughts, accompanied by a rifle, renewed the hunt, bringing down a full grown lynx as trophy. This specimen had probably wandered down from the mountains and was resting beside a straw stack in the sun. Eventide would have found him feasting in a hen house had not Joe's gun been brought into action.

The cut-worm is in evidence marking its path with destruction. On a farm several miles east of Lomond, large patches have been eaten from the wheat field.

Precautions should be taken to limit the progress of this destructive invader.

Lomond District

The wheat looks encouraging as it waves before the wind these days. Adolph Blank says that the wheat in this locality is far superior to any seen on the road to Lethbridge.

An accident happened the other day which might have proved fatal, when one of the drillers on Jim Simon's place while motoring with Adolph Blank's car, had the misfortune it turned turtle with him. The occupant escaped with a cut in his head and the car lost its top.

While returning from a moonlight joy-ride the other night, Sam Henderson's McLaughlin car was disabled at a certain corner near town the gear having perhaps a just complaint. Sam footed it to his farm and his 10-20 Titan was chained to the unhappy car. Even the 10-20 Titans can play a big part in these moonlight excursions.

Several complaints have been heard during the last two weeks from farm women regarding the scarcity of meat at Lomond market.

Boys for the Farm

It should be a matter of congratulation that so many Calgary boys in the public schools announce their desire to become farmers. That is not the experience in city schools of the east, where the tendency is to pass up the farm for some urban occupation. And the school board will be in good business if it makes moves to strengthen this good tendency on the part of the rising generation. In such a country as Alberta there should be at least as many city school boys graduate to the farm as pass into professional and industrial life.

Many Nationalists Here

It is interesting, as showing the cosmopolitan character of the immigration which Western Canada is now receiving, to notice that out of the officials of the United Farmers of Alberta, a co-operative organization, the president, first vice-president, fourth vice-president, honorary president and two of the directors are American, the third vice-president, the secretary-treasurer and four of the directors are English, the second vice-president and two of the directors are Canadian and another director Danish.

being heated before being fitted over the inner tubes, so that with the subsequent contraction due to the reduction of temperature the outer tube tightly fits the inner.

The innermost tube of all is inserted as one of the later operations, and in very accurate machines the bore is rifled in order that the gyro motion is essential to accuracy.

The Modern 12-inch Gun

One of the chief sources of strength in big guns lies in the miles and miles of steel ribbon with which the tube is reinforced. This ribbon, one sixteenth of an inch thick and about a quarter of an inch wide, is wound around the tube or core of the great cannon. On a twelve-inch gun about 130 miles of the ribbon is wound, a weight of fifteen tons. The ribbon has a tensile strength of 100 tons per square inch.

From the time the ingots of steel, some of which are nearly 100 tons in weight, are taken from the steel foundry where they are cast as octagonal masses, to when, as a complete weapon, the gun is tested to prove its power and accuracy, scores of intricate processes are gone through.

After being taken from the foundry, the mass of steel is dealt with by the machine shop, where a hole is made in each end in what is known as a trepanning machine. Under a hydraulic press of 10,000 tons power it is next forged to reduce it to a tube or jacket of the required length and thickness of metal, whereon it is passed to one of the large machine shops there to be finished to internal and external diameter in machines ranging up to 180 feet in length.

The tube is next reheated and tempered in oil baths which are under the ground level and of great depth, so that the tube may be suspended vertically in a bath while the heat is steadily maintained at the required temperature by carefully-controlled gas jets.

The tube is lowered into and lifted out of these baths by "Goliath" cranes capable of dealing with weights of 100 tons and with tubes 75 feet in length. The tube will be used in the subsequent operation of building-up by the shrinking-on process the various tubes or jackets required to form the complete gun, the outer tubes
